WHY BRAVEHEART TRAINING COURSE

Most of the youth workers want to be good leaders and have leadership skills: to be inspiring and motivating, have clear vision and goals, to be able to lead a team. You can learn about leadership from books, training courses, seminars, TED talks, and youtube videos. However, it is a long-term practice and training that is essential for becoming a youth leader.

We prepared Braveheart based on our long-term experience in training youth, teachers and corporate leaders.

"Braveheart is a three phase training course for youth workers. Its aim is to strengthen and advance leadership skills."

The training course is based on the experiential and outdoor learning methodology that we've been using since 2006. We put stress on practical training with real effects rather than learning theoretical background. The ratio of practical training to theory is 80:20.

The training course is supported by the Erasmus+ program. Accommodation, food and travel expenses are fully covered. Participation fee is €150. You will get €100 back if you take part in all phases of the project.

PROGRAM AND METHODS

"We work with the methods of experiential learning and non-formal education. We believe the most effective way of learning is by reflecting one's personal experience. We also put stress on sharing, feedback and learning from mistakes and success."

INTENSIVE PROGRAMME: The training and the program will be intensive. We believe that by stepping out of your comfort zone you learn faster. We start in the morning and finish in the evening, the program usually takes from 8 to 10 hours per day. Your participation is voluntary, but the more you experience, the more you learn.

GROUP DYNAMICS AND PEER LEARNING: New challenging situations bring great opportunity for learning from each other. Personal experience is always unique and we enrich each other by sharing it. We will focus on the group dynamics and support the level of trust in the group to learn as much as possible.

PERSONAL FEEDBACK: To learn from each other, we need to know how to say the right things at the right place. We will practice the skill of giving and getting feedback to be able to use it more effectively.

FROM THEORY TO PRACTICE, FROM TRAINING TO THE REAL LIFE: After each phase, we expect you to put in practice what you have been learning. You might apply little changes to your everyday routines or change the way you work with youth. There will be coaching groups to support you during the interphases.
